Fire Destroys Frederic General Store

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Frederic General Store Sunday evening. The building and contents were a total loss, according to Frederic Fire Chief Alan Leng, but he was unable to set a dollar value on the loss. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

The alarm was sounded in between 6:30 and 7:00 p.m. on Sunday evening, May 23. The Frederic Fire Department was aided by units from Grayling, Camp Grayling, the Department of Natural Resources, and Waters, with approximately 50 men in all assisting. Leng said. The business was owned and operated by Marion White.

Four firemen received injuries while battling the blaze. They included Richard Dowland, lacerations on the hand; Tom Tuck and Tom Miller, burns; and Bill Tuck, smoke inhalation.

The Frederic Inn and a home were threatened for a time but the fire departments were able to contain the fire to the one building with only minor damage from heat and water to the others, according to Leng.

Risks Rise For Boaters On Holiday Weekend

With the long three day Memorial weekend, boaters and water sports will be crowding the lakes and rivers. This rise in traffic on the water will increase the chances of a water accident, warns the Crawford County Sheriff Department Marine Patrol.

Boaters are urged to use more caution and keep a close eye for swimmers. Swimmers should keep in mind the basic rules by not swimming alone, know their ability and stay within this limit, and if possible, stay in marked swim areas. Non-swimmers should wear a life-saving device.

Sheriff Harold Hatfield says that Marine Patrol for the three day weekend will be increased with emphasis put on preventing accidents by assistance and inspections.

Sheriff Hatfield also encourages boaters to have a courtesy safety inspection on their watercraft by contacting any Marine Officer at the Sheriff Department.

Water accidents are avoidable and anyone wishing more information on water safety or the Michigan Marine Laws can contact the Marine Patrol at 348-6341.

Warrants will be mailed to county treasurers next week.

Grayling Twp. Studies Refuse Handling Change

By R. J. Fowler, Grayling Twp. Supervisor

The Grayling Township Board is studying the feasibility of constructing a Solid Waste Stationary Compactor Facility. This type facility would replace our present Green Box Refuse Transfer Stations on the North Down River Road and M-72 West. At the present time, a site is being considered on the North Down River Road between Jack Milliken, Inc. and the Little League. This location is fairly central to the more heavily populated areas of the Township. The cost factor limits the Township to the single site. This type facility requires an attendant during all open hours. This will permit better control and lead to a much cleaner operation.

Continued misuse of the present Green Box Sites has made it necessary for the Township Board to seek other methods for solid waste disposal and yet not require our people to travel all the way to the County Land Fill.

Last Friday I spent most of the day policing and arranging for the clean up of the North Down River site. [See Grayling Twp. on page 14]

A Grizzly Bear Story

by Bruce J. Kelly

"I thought you guys were grizzly bears," I told the two highway officers.

My wife and I had travelled north from Fairfax, Va., a suburb of metropolitan Washington D.C. The snow storm on interstate 75 had stranded us near the Four Mile Run exit sign. Our aim was to reach Fairbanks, Alaska after May 10th. By then the dirt roads will have dried from the spring breakup.

About 1:30 a.m. after surviving the wildernesses quick change in temperature we were awakened by the knock on the car window by the highway patrolmen.

I was half-a-sleep and my thoughts were repeating my mother-in-law's words of warning, to stay away from grizzly bears in the north country.

My wife and I agree the sheriff's outpost in Grayling was very efficient and understanding of our automotive breakdown predicament. "We would like to say thanks a lot, we are grateful!"

Bruce and Chari Kelly are journeying to Alaska from "Northern Virginia." They were married on April 19th at the Fairfax County's Clerk of the Circuit Court's home.

They drove down through the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia through the lower half of West Virginia and into Olive Hill, Kentucky.

The next day the Kellys went due north from Portsmouth, Ohio to Grayling, Michigan.

Bruce feels Grayling would be an ideal place to retire after he completes his long desire to publish a book about the fulfillment of a lost Alaskan.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1976

From Our Corner...

This is going to be a beautiful week for our stalwart readers ... we are going to give you a vacation from all of our trivia we tried to pass on the past couple of weeks, only because we have figured our corner has not stimulated the incentive we expected.

With 3 letters to the editor on our desk at this time — we will attempt once again to pass on to the frustrated persons who wish to have their thoughts on a given subject published in the archives of the Avalanche — they must be signed, plus contain their address.

2 of our letters are hand written and signed a concerned person. The other is typewritten and signed the same way plus a name, of whom we have no knowledge of, plus, most people can type.

Our mailbox is open to all ... we only ask, be constructive, and be willing to stand up and be counted ... there are many times we will withhold names when we feel it may cause undue hardship on the writer ... but then, we must know the author for our files.

Enough ... have a beautiful Memorial Weekend — and remember those who gave their lives for which we are commemorating.

Our corner is not long enough to list those we think of ...

R. Hanson and wife, and Rasmus Bay and wife and child of Lewiston will start for a visit to Denmark this week.

The electric lighting plant
was N. G. Sunday morning, leaving us depending on Kerosene lamps for four nights.

About 6:00 Sunday morning,
the homes of Mr. Skingley and Mr. Love in Beaver Creek were struck by lightning during an electrical storm.

A large party of young people
invaded the home of the John Skingleys in Beaver Creek, Friday night. About 10:00 p.m.
they took possession of the barn and dancing became the order and lasted to near morning. At midnight Mrs. Skingley served a generous lunch and hot coffee. When the party was over, there was one regret - that all good times must end.

Sunday the mercury was at 60 degrees but by Monday it had fallen to 30 degrees, snow was two inches deep and kept falling till noon with a stiff northwest wind. Ugh!

C. F. Kelley of Frederic had the misfortune of losing his warehouse by fire Friday morning.

Died - at her home in this village Sunday morning, May 26, Anna, wife of H. P. Olson, age 25 years.

Alfred Sorenson will go to Chicago next week to a special school to perfect himself in certain lines of business.

were absent, there have been changes made in a few club
rules for the long standing members and backsliders.

Come on Ladies, Gentlemen

Outdoors Report

[By Skip Madsen]
Being plagued with this unseasonably cold weather has not done great things for the local fishing. Fly hatches are slow and when they do come the wind keeps them from landing on the water. There are showings of brown drakes on the stillwater with few of the larger fish feeding. Quill gordon, yellow drakes and stones are appearing on the mainstream.

Mushroom hunters have had
it pretty slow although the picking is better up north around Gaylord. The white ones are just starting.

Brown trout are being caught
at Frankfort, Manistee and East Traverse Bay.

Lake Trout are being caught off the pier in Petoskey and off shore at Norwood with a few showing up off Charlevoix.

Bluegills are slow to get on their beds with water temperatures staying between 48 degrees and 53 degrees most of the time.

Remember that bass season opens next Friday night at midnight. We hope it will bring some warmer weather along with it.

Alumni News

[By Clara Sorenson]

On Friday, May 21st we recognized our Roy O. Milnes Award student at the Annual Awards Day at G.H.S. This year
it is Leigh Cary.

She is "The Best All-Around
Good Citizen of the Senior Class of '76." The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Cary, Leigh is 17 years old, has been here for 5 years. She has been active in Band, Choir, the Woodwind Ensemble and Journalism. She will major in Music this fall at Central Michigan.

Carol Wort informed us that our new album of the Graduation Classes, '26 through '76, is all ready for a showing to our Alumni on Saturday, May 29th
at our Teacher Appreciation Coffee Hour.

We do hope a lot of you will see it.

Our G.H.S. Alumni Teachers
are, Clara Nelson Sales, '15, Carrie Feldhauser Baynham,
'27, Earl Gierke, '28 and Elmer Fenton, '29. We have quite a few more in the system right now.
The next date to watch for is September 25th.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Atheist Leader Discouraged

A few weeks ago Madalyn Murray O'Hair self professed leader of Atheism announced publicly, "I quit. Anyone who desires to take over leadership of the American Atheist community can have it." These were the hasty words of a discouraged woman who had previously fought to stop prayer in our schools; the woman who had tried to prevent our astronauts
from reading the Bible in space;
and the woman who attempted to stop religious broadcasting across our land.

Mrs. O'Hair, who later reversed this decision, over reacted to a host of pressures. She blamed her resignation on lack of support by fellow Atheists
and abuse by the Christian community. She was also under pressure at home with her husband suing for divorce and her son William deserting her position to begin regular attendance at church. Even her state chapters were being infiltrated
by "Christians" who didn't believe in Atheism.

Should we rejoice at the problems and discouragement of Mrs. O'Hair? No. She doesn't need our "hate mail" or abusive talk, she needs our prayers and love. It is sad to think that this woman must face such misery
in this life along with the eternal torments of Hell after death. Oh how wonderful it would be if she could know Jesus Christ and the joy of sins forgiven.

I personally have a degree of respect for Mrs. O'Hair. Even though we are enemies and totally disagree concerning God and Religion, she has some character traits which are admirable. First, I appreciate her openness. She doesn't try to deceive anyone concerning her belief or disbelief in God. She is far more honest and open than the "God is Dead" theologians
who hide behind the title
"Christian", and by deceit try to undermine the faith of those who pay their salaries, and supply them with churches and schools.

It is easy to condemn Mrs.
O'Hair for removing the Bibles from our schools, but how much effort have we Christians made to ensure our children a Christian education? It is easy to condemn Mrs. O'Hair for opposing the reading of the Bible by Astronauts in space, yet how many of us attempt to share the Word of God with others when we have opportunity? It is easy to condemn Mrs. O'Hair for her active opposition to the gospel of Jesus Christ, but how active are we in proclaiming this gospel of the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ for our sins? How effective would the efforts of this one dedicated woman be if each of us as Christians were as dedicated to the proclaiming of truth as she is to error?

May God enable us as Christians to work as hard for Jesus Christ as Mrs. Madalyn Murray
O'Hair works for the Devil.

WHO CARES:
Hello Friend;
I just want to tell you that you have a friend that loves you so much he gave his very life for you. I know that this is a hard thing to realize but it is true.
Never since God created man has there ever been a love like this. There is nothing that we can do to deserve this love. There is no way that we can earn this love. And by the same token it can not be forced on you. It is for you if you want it. But only you can accept it, but it is FREE, and all paid for already, and can not be taken back. The blood is spilled, the pain has been felt, the agony is done, never to be done again, it's finished.
If you want this love, it's yours. All you have to do is say, "Jesus, I am sorry for my sins, as your word says," All have sinned "please forgive me & come into my heart." As your word says, "I stand at the door and knock, Come into my life and be my personal savior." Jesus does not want us to be in the personal torment that life has to offer us, and we will find the peace of God if we ask God for it. Jesus said, "Come unto me and I will give you peace, not as the world gives." John 3:16. -27-

On June 21, 1918, she and her sister, Henrietta, were united in a double ceremony; Henrietta to Harold Skingley and Flora to his brother, George Skingley. To this union were born three children: Evelyn, now Mrs. Vernon Gardner of Grayling; Marion, now Mrs. Enrie Rokos of Traverse City; and Robert, deceased. George Skingley preceded his wife in death and was laid to rest November 27, 1971.

Her television show ran from 1948 to 1960 after which she free-lanced her "Lady of Charm" series to other Detroit stations and did commercials. The program told and showed women how to look and cook. She retired in 1965.

Office Supply Offers Full Line

In what is called "expensables", the store offers a complete range of everything from pens to typewriter ribbons. These also include many varieties of typewriter papers, folders, and envelopes.

In the hardware section, Mid-Michigan offers new and used equipment, including typewriters, calculators, and adding machines. Full service is offered in this area and the business serves as a distributor for several outlets. Used furniture is also available.

Owners of the new business are Dennis and Ginger Sullenger. Mr. Sullenger comes originally from Dearborn and has worked five years with Burroughs Corp., and a year as a systems analyst and territory sales manager for Monroe Calculator Co., a division of Litton Corp.

Rep. Ralph Ostling To Seek Re-Election For 103rd District

State Representative Ralph Ostling (R - Roscommon) announced today that he will seek re-election to the Michigan House of Representatives from the 103rd legislative district. Ostling is now completing his second term in office.

During the current term, Representative Ostling has served as Vice-Chairman of the House Committee on Conservation, Environment and Recreation, and is a member of the committees on Elections, Liquor Control, House Policy and Economic Development. In addition, Rep. Ostling serves on two special legislative committees, the Public Service Commission Investigating Committee and a "watchdog" committee for the Civil Service.

Rep. Ostling said the major problems facing the state today are focused on money. "I continue to be much concerned about the big spenders in Lansing. I think the voters want the escalation of government programs stopped, and I agree. Yet in spite of these fiscally difficult times, the big spenders are calling for more taxes so they can spend more money."

"I totally disagree and the only tax increase on the income tax I could possibly support would be one that is coupled with an equal amount of relief from the property tax and from nuisance taxes. I want to see the state hold the line on spending and begin immediately to put away a surplus for lean years."

Mr. Ostling also listed welfare reform and a better climate for business - particularly small business, in the state as top priority issues.

"I would like to see less dependency on government at all levels. It appears easy to look to the government for the provision of services. But what is government? It is ourselves and its services are paid for by our tax dollars. Each increase in services costs you and me more money. We will stop governmental regulation of our lives only if we stop demanding so much from it."

"I have supported and will continue to work to gain passage of legislation which would call for less regulation of services provided by private enterprises. Lively competition on the open market can and will assure the consumer a fair distribution of dependable products and reliable services. The poor provider will not prosper in a climate where competitors offer the same goods and services at better prices and of better quality. I submit that governmental regulation with its accompanying tax is a threat to our democratic way of life," Rep. Ostling said.

Representative Ostling, who has lived in Roscommon since he was born there, served as Clerk of Gerrish Township in Roscommon County for 17 years and also was a secondary teacher for 20 years. He now lists himself as a full-time legislator.

He was graduated from Gerrish-Higgins High School and earned a Bachelor of Science Degree as well as a Master's Degree in Industrial Education from Central Michigan University.

Rep. Ostling is married to the former Thelä Dean and they have one son, Kurt. He served in the U.S. Navy in World War II and his military affiliations include the V.F.W. and the AmVets. He is a member of the Messiah Lutheran Church in Roscommon.

The 103rd District is composed of the Counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Clare (part), Kalamazoo, Crawford, Missaukee, Oscoda (part) and Roscommon, and Gilmore Township in Isabella County and Whitewater Township in Grand Traverse County.

Important To Michigan Vets

May 31, 1976 is an important date for many Michigan veterans. Many veterans who served in the Armed Forces between January 31, 1955 and May 31, 1966 will reach the end of their eligibility for VA education assistance as of May 31, 1976. Since these veterans were discharged from the service before June 1, 1966, they were eligible for benefits during the 10-year period from June 1, 1966 (the effective date this group of veterans became eligible under the GI Bill) to May 31, 1976. The 10-year period is a statutory limitation which can not be extended by the VA. Any months of remaining entitlement can not be used.

However, veterans in the above category who are currently pursuing or will enroll in a program of Farm Cooperative Training, Apprenticeship, On-the-Job Training, or Flight Training are not affected by the May 31, 1976 termination date. These veterans are eligible until August 30, 1977.

Educational financial assistance from other sources such as the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare; Department of Labor (CETA); State of Michigan Department of Vocational Rehabilitation; and various other public and private scholarships, grants, and loans may be available to student veterans who need additional financial aid to complete their education. Veteran students are encouraged to contact their school financial aid office for additional information.

When it comes to Consumer Loans, there's more than one good reason to see First Savings. What's a good reason you ask? Well here's just a few of the good reasons First Savings can lend for:

Furniture - Refrigerator - Freezer - Dishwasher - Range - New Car - Used Car - New Truck - Used Truck - Motorcycle - Snowmobile - Boat - Camper - Trailer - Mobile Home - Motor - Garden Tractor - Riding Lawn Mower - Farm Equipment - Pool Table - Vacations - Special Assessments - College Education - Dental Braces - Medical Expenses -

This list is virtually endless ... and First Savings can lend up to $5,000 for a consumer loan. Sometimes even more. So why wait? Enjoy those major purchases now, while you pay for them. When you need someone to help, remember us.

HOME IMPROVEMENT LOANS

If you're thinking about remodeling the kitchen, adding an extra bedroom, or even landscaping the backyard, then First Savings would like to work with you to increase the enjoyment and add to the value of your present home. With a home improvement loan, we can lend you the money necessary to enlarge, improve, or modernize your home.

To apply for a home improvement loan, simply get a cost estimate from your contractor for the work you want done. Or, if you're planning to do the job yourself, get an estimate from a building materials dealer. Then, visit the most convenient First Savings office and complete the necessary application. One of our professional loan counselors will help you set up a repayment plan with monthly installments to fit your budget, at rates you can afford.

If lack of money is holding up the improvements you want to make on your home, get things moving fast with a home improvement loan from First Savings.

MORTGAGE LOANS

If it's a mortgage loan you need, First Savings' loan specialists are ready to assist you in your financing. We offer a wide variety of mortgage programs, suited to your individual circumstances.

Conventional Loans

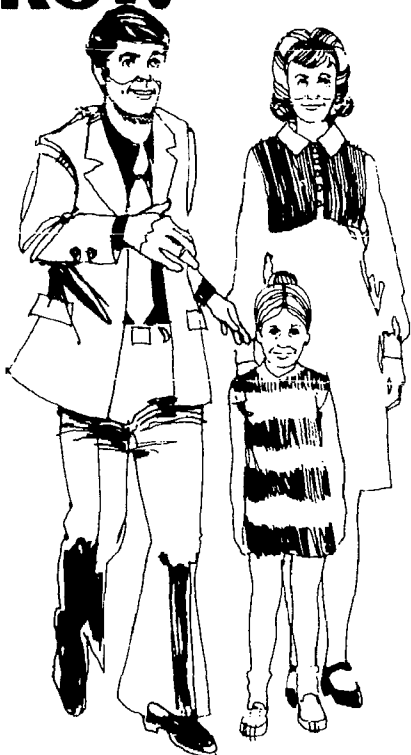

This is the most common type of mortgage loan. In most cases, it allows you to purchase a home with a down payment of 20 per cent of the purchase price. The conventional mortgage, made directly to you, requires no mortgage insurance and generally carries the most desirable rate of interest.

90 per cent and 95 per cent Insured Loans

First Savings realizes that your individual circumstances may be such that you cannot come up with the 20 per cent down payment necessary for a conventional loan. If you are unable to meet this amount, we also offer mortgage loans which will let you buy that dream home with as little as 5 per cent or 10 per cent down.

Three Win 4-H Poster Contest

by Merrily Baldwin, Extension Home Economist

Three Grayling students were awarded trophies May 10 for their winning entries in the 4-H Mulligan Stew poster contest. Lisa CobeBaca, a student in Mrs. Kupicko's classroom, Karyn Reynolds, Mrs. Bovee's room and John Wejrowski, Mr. Brigham's room received trophies in the shape of a 4-H clover, with the slogan "Mulligan Stew" engraved on the base.

The poster contest was the culmination of this year's 4-H Mulligan Stew program. Mulligan Stew is a 6 part film-study series designed to create an understanding of the role nutrition plays in everyone's daily life. The program emphasizes the importance of eating a daily diet made up of the appropriate number of servings from each of the 4 basic food groups. Teachers in the Roscommon and Frederic Elementary Schools guide their students in the program.

The 41 students who entered posters in the contest received 4-4-3-2 buttons. The 4-4-3-2 formula for eating 4 servings of fruits and vegetables, 4 breads and cereals, 3 from the milk group and 2 from meat group - has become well-known to the Mulligan Stew students.

Judges for the contest were Kathryn Burkley, dietician; Joe Wakely, Crawford County Treasurer; and Vivian Nichols, WGRY "Who Knows Show" moderator. Posters were judged for nutritional message, creativity, and neatness and general appearance.

The 4-H Mulligan Stew program, including poster contest is a program of the Crawford-Roscommon Cooperative Extension Service.

O.E.S. News

Grayling chapter #83 held a friend's night May 19th. An initiation was held with Bernice Winston as the new candidate. All 18 officers had a guest friend.

The Grayling officers put on the opening and closing ceremony and their guests performed the initiatory work. An impressive ceremony was performed as the Grayling officers introduced their guest and presented them with a gift. June Feldhauser gave a beautiful solo following the gift presentation entitled "My Friends".

The guest officers were from Kalkaska, Gaylord, Lewiston, Houghton Lake, Rose City, Roscommon, Mancelona and Alpena. Other visitors were from Mio, Dearborn and Rogers City.

There were close to 100 in attendance. A delicious lunch was served afterward of Turkey salad and assorted cakes. The tables were decorated in the bicentennial theme with home-made liberty bells and bicentennial flags as centerpieces. There were homemade table favors as gifts to bring home, which were the emblem of Martha, the station being honored by the worthy matron this year. They also served as useful jewelry holders.

A drawing was held for an alghan and the lucky recipient was a lady from Roscommon. The next regular meeting will be held June 2nd at 8:00 p.m.

To the Editor:

As a G.H.S. graduate of the class of '23 I have an item of news which may be of interest to your readers. When I was a Freshman in 1920 I was the only boy in a class of some thirty or more girls. You may say, Sounds Great! but it wasn't. At that age I couldn't care less about the fair sex. To top it all off the boys in the Junior class deemed me fair game for all sorts of pranks. Now our counselor Miss Marguerite Hoyt took it upon herself to keep a protective eye over me. One day she saw a couple of guys drag me into the wash room where they would dunk my head in the wash bowl or stuff the seat of my pants with towels, (all in fun). But Miss Hoyt rushed to my rescue and shouted to "let Archie out or I'm coming in."
Needless to say the would-be pranksters were scared stiff and that put an end to the tricks. At the end of the first semester
there were more boys in the Freshman class and the whole idea was forgotten. Now the next part of this letter may prove more interesting.As Arbor Day was approaching someone in our class suggested that we plant a memorial tree to our class.
Accordingly Almer Smith and myself were appointed to get the tree. In those days there were no restrictions against getting a tree anywhere in the woods, so we dug one on what is now the Bear Archery property. We chose a maple about an inch or so in diameter and brought it to the sight. Mr. R.D.
Baily, the county agricultural agent, had the hole dug with a bushel of old potatoes laid in the bottom to hold moisture
during the summer. Now Miss Hoyt had prepared a scroll on which all of our class put their signatures. Then it was rolled up and placed inside an olive bottle, corked and sealed with tar and placed among the potatoes. The tree thrived until someone tore a ribbon of bark from the full length of it. I didn't expect it to survive but the following Spring it was still growing — and still is.As I recall, we planted it on the Southwest corner of the block where the old school was built. You can identify it by the dark streak which faces the school grounds. This letter is written with a heart full of memories of the good old days from 1918 to 1941. My wife Luanna and I live in Mesa, Arizona. While we like it here, I still have a soft spot in my heart
for the ole home town.

Sincerely,

Archie Cripps

Sunny items dot the newsThere's good news this week, as one of the more venerable radio commentators used to say over the airwaves a generation or so ago.And so there is, if you've the patience to seek it out. All too often, we tend to skim right over the nicer items of the news; that's understandable, because they don't happen that often, and the nature of news is man-bites-dog and not dog-wags-tail.A short stroll, along the sunnier side of the news beat, uncovers some rather nice news items like these...Baseball's Rick Monday has already received considerable notice, but his feat deserves recognition once again, as far as I'm concerned, even if our voice is only a pipsqueak in the overall pattern of things.Monday is the Chicago Cub outfielder who thwarted flag-burning plans of a couple of characters who leaped out of the stands in California and sat down in the outfield, soaked an American flag, and tried to set it aflame.Outfielder Monday swooped down on the scene, grabbed the flag, and tucked it safely to his bosom, to the huzzahs of the stands and subsequent praise from several quarters. We are pleased to add our praise, too, for laudable sentiments, quick thinking and quick action."You know," commented Monday after the incident, "there is one great thing about this country of ours — there isn't anybody at the border preventing people who don't like it here from leaving."Amen, Rick Monday. Thanks for making our day a bit brighter.Thanks, too, to a flock of nameless New Yorkers for stalwart action in the face of temptation.It seems a Brinks armored truck was rounding a corner in Manhattan when the back door swung open and $2,000 worth of quarters rolled into the street.
What an opportunity for the folks at hand; after all, who would know?But what happened? According to the AP report, folks dashed up to scoop up the coins all right, but then promptlyhanded fistfulls of money over to the Brinks driver and two guards. All but about $10 of the $2,000 in spilled coins was recovered.Again, hats off to those folks for making life a bit more pleasant.Over at Northern Illinois University at DeKalb, Ill., the folks in the journalism department are trying something a bit different.They're going to test would-be students and see how they are at basic spelling and grammar, and elect
students accordingly.Don Grubb, journalism chairman, estimates that 20 percent of the students who take the qualifying test will fail; the students will be able to take the test again, so they won't be excluded forever from Northern Illinois' journalism study.Chairman Grubb, expecting a journalism enrollment surge in the wake of Watergate, with its fallout of books and films and glamour—also expects the spelling-grammar testing to help curb journalism enrollment to manageable proportions.Anything to insist on basic spelling and grammar in journalism education is good news to me, and I applaud Northern Illinois for its approach.A smile is always welcome when you're reading a newspaper, and I couldn't help but grin to myself when reading about the tiff between Jim Colborn, a starting pitcher for the Milwaukee Brewers, and his manager,
Alex Grammas, when Grammas yanked Colborn in a recent game. It goes without saying, of course, that most pitchers hate being taken out of a game,
and apparently Colborn fits the pattern.
He was quoted as saying about Manager Grammas:"If he takes me out of any more games in a situation like that, I'll sneak in his office and tie his socks in knots.
If I'm really perturbed, I'll tie his shorts in knots."Fair enough, pitcher Colborn. And thanks for the lift.the best in DINING & DANCING

IF IT FITZ

Jim Fitzgerald

I had forgotten that ...

My 3-year-old granddaughter, Melissa, is tremendously fond of the minister of her parents' church. When he comes visiting, he eats peanut butter sandwiches with her. And sometimes he takes her out to lunch at McDonald's.

He should be nice to her, in view of what she calls him. She calls him God.

Whenever I bore you with grandchildren stories, you'll know I am tapering off after being visited by the three darlings. They are aged infant through first grade, two girls and a boy, and their last visit prompted me to lodge a complaint at City Hall in our small town.

The civil defense people explode three bombs to warn the populace that a tornado is coming. But they don't even put up a distress flag when my three grandkids cross the city limits. Three nuclear explosions not only would be appropriate, they would be a comparatively quiet introduction to the impending calamity.

Anyway, I find it isn't wise to quit vibrating cold turkey after the children head back home. Instead, I turn my son's stereo on full volume and place my strung-out body in the center of the four speakers. I have him play Frank Zappa records, reducing the volume gradually over a period of hours. I pass the time pondering the many things I had forgotten until Michele and Melissa and John arrived to bring back the memories.

It had been 15 years or so depending on your criteria, since babies lived at our house. It's hard to say exactly when our youngest child ceased to be a baby, but I remember getting suspicious when he began changing his own diapers and heating his own bottle.

I had forgotten how it feels to hear a baby cry at 3 a.m. It took me a few seconds to remember what to do. What you do is push your foot softly to the south. If this doesn't work, you kick more firmly. Finally, your wife wakes up. You then tell her the baby is crying.

I had forgotten about the spot on a baby's neck, up under the chin, not far from the ear. That's where you nuzzle a baby. It feels great.

I had forgotten the crunchy sound of cookie crumbs underfoot.

I had forgotten when your heart stops, and then pounds, when you hear a baby scream and the sound of a small body going bump, bump, bump.

And I had forgotten the mixed relief of discovering he fell only two steps. A potted plant went the rest of the way.

I had forgotten to look before I sit. Have you ever sat on an abandoned popsicle?

I had forgotten a grown man can somehow enjoy eating his dinner while watching a kid with a runny nose stick her face in chocolate pudding.

I had forgotten the most beautiful babies have fat stomachs and no fannies, and once they get walking fast, it is a fact of gravity that they are going to fall down, bam.

And I had forgotten adults are supposed to look the other way when these falls occur. This is supposed to make the kid think he is not hurt. I keep forgetting and picking the kid up and kissing his sore spot and mouthing silly "there-there-baby" words I'd hate to have overheard at the Alibi Bar.

I had forgotten how grand it feels to return home from work and be greeted by a little kid who wants to climb up your legs and stick his fingers in your nose. I had forgotten that babies don't watch TV and you don't have to knock on their heads to say hello.

I had forgotten the goofy pride of taking little kids into a restaurant and having strangers smile at them. I react modestly to such attention, bowing from the waist only after repeated applause. Inside my fat head I am hoping everyone will think I am the father, not the grandfather, for gosh sakes.

I had forgotten the marvelous innocence of a small baby; the trust and the dependence and the eagerness to love and be loved. I had forgotten that some smart adult like me must teach little kids how to hate, and who to hate.

I had forgotten that a little girl can eat peanut butter sandwiches with God. †

Hwy. Dept. Offers New Service to Area Drivers

LANSING — Travelers along US-27 between Harrison and Grayling soon will be able to locate emergency and tourist-related services in the area merely by pulling off the freeway.

Information plazas will provide a permanent directory of such services are being erected by the Department of State Highways and Transportation in two rest areas adjoining the freeway. One is on northbound US-27 about five miles south of Houghton Lake; the other on southbound US-27 about three miles south of Higgins Lake. They are the first ever placed on Michigan's highway system.

Seven large, glass-covered panels provide space for information on area hospitals, police and other emergency services and on travel service businesses such as hotels, motels and tourist homes; campgrounds, restaurants, service stations and recreation facilities and attractions. Each will be identified on a metal plate, measuring one-by-six inches, which also will list the address, telephone number and business hours.

The information plazas, which are being placed in conjunction with construction of modern restroom buildings in the two rest areas, are expected to be in operation by July 4.

The Highways and Transportation Department said services to be listed in the northbound rest area, at least for this year, will be located in a corridor 10 miles wide on each side of the freeway and extending 35 miles north from the rest area. Those listed in the southbound rest area must be in an area 10 miles on each side of the freeway and extending 35 miles south from the rest area.

The Department said there will be no charge for qualifying businesses and other services in the directory. Those interested must submit an application to: Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, Motorist Services Section, P.O. Box 30050, Lansing, Mich. 48909.

The Department said the directory will be updated annually. The deadline for inclusion in this year's directory is Jack Waters, of Grayling, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving. He was fined $35.00 or to serve 4 days in jail. Waters was arrested May 14th by City Policemen.

Thomas Graham, 58, of St. Ignace pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly person by intoxication in a public place. He was sentenced to serve 2 days in jail and fined $25.00 or serve 3 additional days in jail. Graham was apprehended by City Policemen May 11th.

Delwin Campbell, 25, of Wixom pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. Total fine and costs were $185.00 or 14 days in jail. Campbell was arrested by City Policemen April 9th.

Daniel Riness, 25, of Grayling and Nelson Maldonado, 21, of Wyandotte both pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while license is suspended. Both received a sentence of 3 days in jail and fined $85.00 or 10 additional days in jail. Jay Stephan Sr. In Five Day Gen-Tel Course

Jay L. Stephan, of Grayling, Test and Assignment Supervisor for General Telephone at Gaylord, recently completed the company's "basic management" course held at its state headquarters training center in Norton Shores, near Muskegon, according to W. C. McCann, Gaylord exchange manager for the company.

The objective of the five-day course is to acquaint supervisors with the techniques of successful supervision, focusing on management responsibility and behavior. The course also explores current theory and common sense methods for motivating employees and describes "Management by Objectives," a system management which leads to improved communication between supervisor and subordinate.

Stephan was among General Telephone supervisory employees from many areas of the state during the five-day training session. The course is a part of General Telephone's continuing effort to provide better telephone service through well-informed, highly skilled employees.

Stephan, his wife, Luanna and children Lisa, Steven, and Timothy live at 291 S. Roberts Road, Grayling.

School Happenings —

Superintendent's Corner

By Fraser Dean

The upcoming school election (June 14) has stirred up quite a lot of interest in school finances, perplexion about property taxes, and confusion regarding the state funding of schools. To try to clear the air a little, I've prepared a list of facts that may help readers understand the situation in the Crawford AuSable School District.

FACT 1. Voters will be asked to approve a 9.15 mill renewal - not an increase.

FACT 2. The 9.15 mills will enable the District to fund a budget for the 1976-77 school year that is only 3.7% greater than the current school year.

FACT 3. The school plans to balance its budget by delaying payment for school buses (installment contracts), borrowing against accounts receivable, cutting back on supply purchases, and holding the line against any program expansion.

FACT 4. The loss of 9.15 mills which is 40% of school funding would result in about a 60 or 65% cut in staff because of fixed costs (insurance, heat, lights, etc.) and unemployment costs.

FACT 5. The state requires districts to levy 27 mills to get full state aid.

FACT 6. The average Michigan school district levies almost 30 mills for operation and some go as high as 38.

FACT 7. The Crawford AuSable Schools levies only 22.65 mills (including the 9.15 renewal).

FACT 8. The Crawford AuSable Schools are among the most economically run schools in the state with the lowest millages and the lowest per pupil expenditures.

FACT 9. Increases in local property assessments bring no additional money to schools because the state deducts a like amount from state aid i.e. (if a mill brings in $30 per pupil locally, the state pays about $12.00 a mill per pupil. If property values go up and a mill were to bring in about $35.00 locally, the state would pay only $7.00 per mill - per pupil).

FACT 10. Local taxpayers are paying more for schools primarily because the state has developed a method of transferring almost the entire cost from the state treasury to the local taxpayer. In 1965 the state paid 75% of the cost and now pays only about 30%.

VISIT HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Mrs. Akers' fourth grade class walked to the Historical Museum last Friday, May 14th. We saw pictures and things there such as old stoves, pictures of old churches. There was old log-moving equipment. Our class would like to thank Mr. Fenton for telling us of Grayling's past.

Third Grade

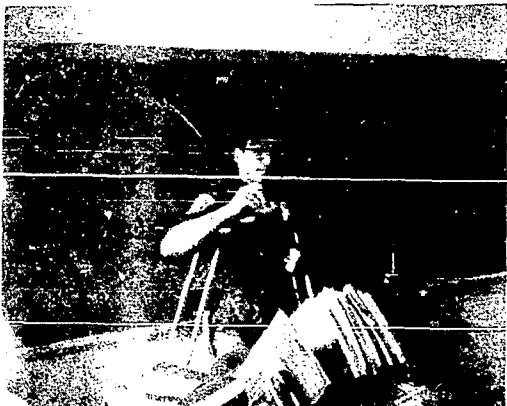

Mrs. Ingvarsson's class is hard at work on the Bicentennial Program. Parts have been assigned and now must be memorized. We hope all the parents come to the program.

In the art center, we made poppies out of construction paper and pipe cleaners. They turned out very nice.

Kindergarten

After we completed planning for a trip to the supermarket, we rode a bus to Glen's in Grayling. Mr. Meyers took us through the "back room" where many interesting things happen. The room where meat is cut and wrapped is very cool in order to keep the meat fresh. We saw very large freezers and refrigerators which looked like big rooms.

A truck, containing all kinds of groceries was unloaded automatically. The cash registers, with their computer, do a lot of work for the store. We all appreciate the fine trip to Glen's Market.

POLICE FINGER-PRINTING—Wednesday, May 19th, 1976, Larry Akers came to talk to Mrs. Akers' and Mr. Hayes' classes about city police finger-printing. He showed them what fingerprints look like. And told them how they get fingerprints off of things. He also showed them how he used his kit. Mr. Larry Akers is showing the class in this picture how to get fingerprints off of the glass he is holding. (by Vicki Mahaney and Khristy Ostrowski)

A DAY ON A FARM

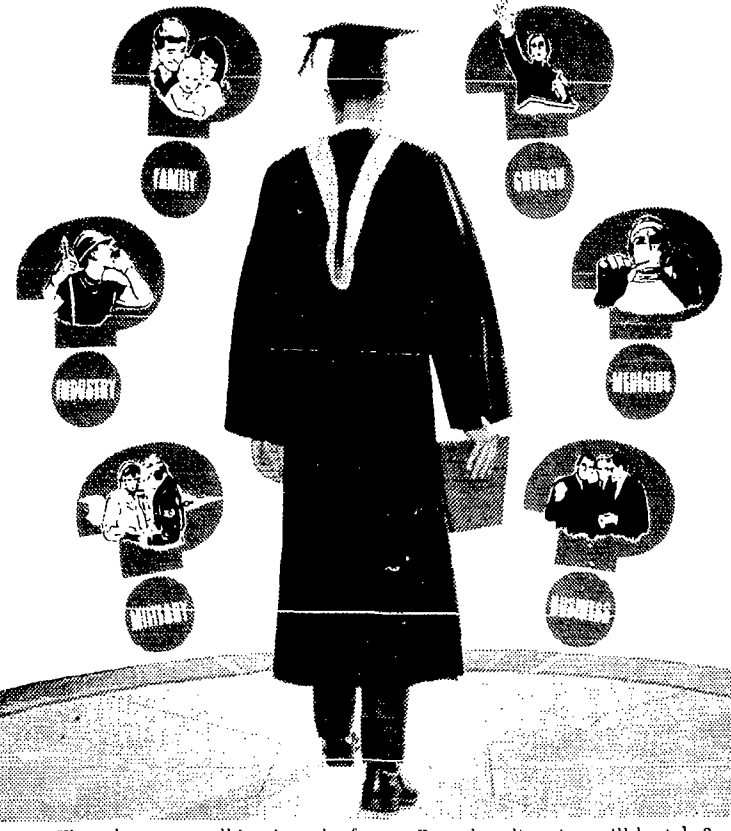

Miss Kraus' third grade class was invited to spend a day on the Rodney Patterson farm. Mrs. Patterson planned the occasion so all children came away saying, "We never had such a wonderful time". After exploring the farm, a hike was planned. Each child had a pony ride, a turn at shooting a B.B. gun and a ride on a motorcycle. Croquet, swinging from a huge tire and visiting Rodney's fort were also pleasant experiences not to mention a wonderful lunch.

STUDY COMMUNICATIONS

Mrs. Yatch's second grade class went to the WGRY Radio Station to see how they work because we were learning about radios and communication. We went Monday, May 17, 1976 in the afternoon at 1:00. We talked on the radio. We liked the big machines they had in the radio station. We saw a teletype work and we saw the records and tapes. (By Bill Perry and Lacey Stephan)

WHICH WAY TO TURN?

There he goes, walking into the future. But what direction will he take? Whatever his choice, he will have to face problems and obstacles before his chosen goals can be reached.

One thing is sure, the years ahead hold much promise. One day he may be landing a jet on a carrier at sea, building a bridge in a foreign country, closing a big sale, or perhaps covering a fast-breaking news story. But to successfully reach his goal he will have to find the strength and wisdom to rise above the knotty problems of life.

Fortunately, he need not make his decisions alone. With the help of the Church, he can determine a course for successfully living his life in the world of tomorrow.

Getting to the point, prepare for delays, postponements and untimely interruptions. Make no promises that you knowingly cannot fulfill.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Many under your sign will be blessed with the good fortune of having a second chance. Meaning? A project you have neglected, will be revived.

Sharp, cagey and cunning; that's the terms that best describe most members of your sign. So, put your persuasive powers to work during this cosmic cycle.

MOONCHILD

This week, put wishful thinking where it belongs. Don't be led down any garden path by a fast talker who wants to give you the "whole world."

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

You're not one who takes romantic gestures, lightly. Nevertheless, you must dismiss certain overtures sent out by a member of the opposite sex.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Personal magnetism and the ability to persuade, seems to be in the scheme of things, for Libra. You'll have your own way, during this cosmic cycle.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Through your own effort, you'll face greater tasks and pressures. Meet things "one by one" and keep on plugging. Long delayed gains should materialize, this week.

SCORPIO

You might be at odds with your boss or superior. Take the philosophical attitude that: You can't beat City Hall. Guard your words, a set back is possible.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

According to your chart, you could be heading toward a few financial problems. Name one? Spending too much money on a pet project or hobby.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

A member of the opposite sex might silently accuse you of shaping into a different personality. Apparently, your attention will be drawn to things other than affairs of the heart.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

It's a certainty that most Aquarians will play the part of the martyr on vacation plans. Take what is due you, even though your co-workers or relatives object.

/s/ Florence S. Douglas, Secretary

A rugged, redheaded adventurer in his twenties, George Rogers Clark was the dynamic force who carried the struggle for American independence across the Ohio River and into the Old Northwest during the middle years of the revolution.

A native Virginian who had moved to Harrodsburg in what is now Kentucky by the start of the war, Clark led rebel forces into the West, believing that this was the best way to halt assaults against frontier settlements by British-inspired Indians.

His military successes in the Northwest did do much to take the pressure off Kentucky settlers during the war. Some claim that they also were responsible for provisions of the 1783 Treaty of Paris which made the Mississippi River the western boundary of the new United States, but this is debatable. Nevertheless, Clark did wrest several key posts from the British and gain control over much of the Northwest. And he never did lose a battle.

His valiant march across frigid and flooded southern Illinois to capture Vincennes in February of 1779 ranks with Benedict Arnold's 1775 expedition against Quebec as one of the most inspiring sagas of the revolution. Arnold's heroic campaign, however, ended in frustration while Clark's was a brilliant success. Before the war ended, Arnold had been branded a traitor. Clark, despite ingratitude of many of those whom he served, was a steadfast American patriot.

Clark was the second of six sons of John and Ann Rogers Clark, and all but the youngest were American officers during the Revolutionary War — two of them generals, two lieutenants, and one a captain. The smallest boy, William, who was only five years old at the start of the war, later became well known for his part in an expedition beyond the Mississippi in company with Meriwether Lewis.

George, who also had four sisters, was born on November 19, 1752, near Charlottesville, Virginia. His birthplace was just two and a half miles from that of Thomas Jefferson. When George was 5, his father sold the farm in Albemarle County, where the first four children were born, and moved to another in Caroline County which had been bequeathed to him by an uncle. Britain and her colonies were then involved in the French and Indian Wars, and the hero of young Clark and other boys in Virginia was George Washington, a young colonel.

At the age of 11, George and his older brother Jonathan were sent to live with their grandfather, John Rogers, so that they could study at the Donald Robertson school in King and Queen County. Their classmates at the school included James Madison, fourth president of the United States, and John Tyler, father of the 10th president. George, according to tradition, wasn't able to master the Greek, Latin and French taught by Robertson and was sent home to his parents after about a half year at the school. Thus ended his formal education.

At 19 he was learning surveying from his grandfather, and he soon was exploring the lands along the Ohio River and its tributaries. In the spring of 1774 he was among a party of 90 that gathered at the junction of the Ohio and Kanawha rivers to set out on an expedition to establish a settlement in Kentucky. However, before they could get underway hostilities erupted between frontier settlers and Indians of the Ohio country, and Clark and his companions were soon involved in Dunmore's War.

In the spring of 1775, Clark started out again for Kentucky where he found James Harrod and about 50 others who had established the town of Harrodsburg. Clark so loved the region that he decided to make it his home. And it was in defense of this home that he undertook his campaign against the British and Indians of the Northwest during the revolution.

Jehovah's To Meet

The governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses has revealed in New York, completion of plans for 94 district conventions of the religious group in the United States during the summer of 1976.

Mr. Moore, spokesman for the Grayling Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said two conventions are scheduled for the Kalamazoo area at Wings Stadium. He said each convention is expected to attract approximately 6,000 delegates. Mr. Moore said delegates from Grayling will attend the first of the two meetings, June 17-20.

Grayling Twp.

This was necessary because certain people continue to dump unauthorized articles such as old appliances, furniture, lumber, brush etc. I felt the day was wasted because there are so many other tasks I could have been doing.

One year ago I made a presentation before the D.N.R. Commission. I objected to the discriminatory treatment we have received in Crawford County in the area of Solid Waste Disposal. I was assured at that time that action would be taken to bring other areas into compliance with the Solid Waste Law. Recent news items indicate the D.N.R. Commission is again discussing the subject. As of this date I am confident I can still find about the same number of "Dump's" operating as there were a year ago.

It would seem all my appearance before the D.N.R. gained was a "pat on the back" for complying with the law and got the Health Department off my back with their objection to our facilities.

Action has been taken to continue the AuSable River Refuse Control Plan for another year. This plan started in 1975, provides for refuse containers and scheduled maintenance at various sites along the river. We have been assured of continued financial support for this program so that very few tax dollars are necessary. We appreciated the cooperation of people not using these containers for household refuse during 1975 and trust this same cooperation will continue. This is a very necessary part of making such a program workable.

Since the first of the year Grayling Township has issued 75 building permits. These consist of 29 new homes, 6 mobile homes, 18 garages, 4 commercial buildings and the remaining 18 for additions and miscellaneous construction. M-72 West is the area of our commercial development to date. In addition my office has received inquiries regarding 6 more commercial enterprises in the same general area.

There is presently under development a new residential subdivision. This is on the northeast corner of Wilcox Bridge Road and North Down River Road. This subdivision consists of 49 lots.

Taking everything into consideration, it appears the Township will experience an about average growth in 1976.

Lansing Report

Rep. Ralph Ostling

BEST BUCK SEASON EVER
Michigan's 1975 firearm deer season was the most successful ever for buck hunters, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

A record number of bucks, 96,890, were taken last year, exceeding the previous season high of 89,470 set in 1946.

Based on a DNR postcard survey of more than 26,000 randomly selected hunters who held 1975 deer licenses, last year's total is estimated at 106,970, counting the 10,080 antlerless deer that were taken.

Hunter success was high, also, as about one sportsman in seven, about fifteen percent, brought home venison. The 710,000 firearm deer hunters in 1975 was also a record, bettering the previous high of 657,500 in 1975.

Figures tabulated by the DNR show that most deer taken last year came from the northern half of the Lower Peninsula, which is also where most hunters took to the woods and fields in search of whitetails.

Dear Sir:
I have just returned from a fly-fishing trip on the AuSable River in Michigan. I spent most of my time on the stream dodging canoes of which there are a great many.
I had an accident with one of the canoes (it rammed into my back and knocked me into the water while I was fishing) which could have had very serious consequences.
First there are too many canoes allowed to use the stream at any one time.
Second, these canoes are being rented to very young people who are not competent enough to handle them. The adults also are not competent and it is appalling to see these people on a stream like the AuSable.
This stream has become one big garbage can for beer and pop bottles and cans and every other kind of debris.
The liveries will rent canoes to anyone regardless of age or ability all in the name of the almighty dollar.
It is evident from talking to the livery operators, the D.N.R. and the sheriff's department whose job it is to patrol the stream, that they could care less.
I suggest that the legislators, the D.N.R. and above all, the people that live along the stream that they have some very strong laws passed without delay while there is still time and before the stream is completely destroyed. It is a great pity that a beautiful stream like the AuSable has become a disgrace to the people of Grayling.
Very truly yours,
Patrick J. Geraghty

This Is The Fly-In Season

With the coming of Spring and warm weather, the number of fly-ins around the State of Michigan becomes much greater and during the months of May, June and July at least one fly-in can be found every weekend somewhere in our state. It is quite possible that members of the local Kodak Flying Club will be looking for these fly-in dates and making plans to participate. Quite often fly-ins are scheduled in conjunction with a local festival or celebration and provide an excellent opportunity for local organizations who wish to sponsor them to make money.

There may be some who are just not too clear as to what a fly-in really is. It is a pre-arranged party at local airports and the amount and type of activities is limited only by the ingenuity of the sponsoring group. Always there is a breakfast which is held in the hangar of the sponsoring field to which everyone is invited. Local citizens and any pilot who flies in. Then later in the day other activities are often held such as an air show put on by a stunt pilot or one of the military air teams, contests for pilots such as spot landings and four sack bombing. Often there are exhibits and displays, model airplanes and other experimental aircraft and an opportunity for you to look close around fly-ins in Michigan this summer you can probably find a blue and white General Skyhawk with the number 8679 U on the side. If you do look around for someone you know because a member of Grayling's Kodak Flying Club is in the field.

Some of the fly-ins of interest that will be held around Michigan this summer include the June 13 fly-in at Jackson in conjunction with that city's annual Rose Festival. A special Bicentennial Fly-in at Kent County Airport that will feature the Army Silver Eagles and the Golden Knights as well as several famous stunt pilots. On June 19 the National Soaring and Hang Gliding Festival will begin with a fly-in at Frankfort with the Midwest Open Hang Gliding Competition going on daily through June 27. If there is anyone in the community who would like to know more about flying, join the Kodak Flying Club they may interest you. Members of this club, Kodak Flying Club officers include: Bob Sogham, President; Joe Sogham, Treasurer; Howard Taylor, Secretary; and Bernie Foster, Maintenance Officer. Meetings in the Kodak Flying Club are available.

Milltown Motor Rally Set For Festival Here

Another novel event the Milltown Motor Rally is being planned for this year's Milltown Festival, July 29 - August 1st according to festival president Wayne Hindmarsh. The Motor Rally, opened to all licensed drivers will be held 1:30 p.m., Sunday, August 1st. The Rally will begin at the Grayling High School parking lot and wind its way through over 50 miles of Crawford County roads, according to Mike Steele, Chamber Manager.

Each team who participates, consisting of a car driver and navigator, will be given a list of directions which will guide them along the rally course. No street names will be listed on the directions, but rather rally teams must determine the route by carefully following posted speed limits, time elapsed, odometer readings and other indications. In addition, rallyists must answer questions about points of interest, landmarks, etc. along the route.

Winners will be determined by a point system based on route time (lower or under pace car time) and correct answers to rally questions. This simple system will penalize drivers exceeding posted speed limits or teams unable to adequately answer visually oriented questions.

All insulation is not alike. NOW THERE'S FOAM.

Conventional fiber glass or rock wool insulation leaves air pockets that can let air escape and raise your fuel bill. Foam insulation from the Homefoamers goes into your walls under pressure, sort of like shaving cream, filling every nook and cranny. In addition, just 3 1/2 inches of foam gives you the same insulation efficiency as 6 inches of rock wool.
